Our pre-order week for books was all on-line this year and is now closed. If your student missed the pre-orders, but would like to have a book signed by one of our authors, please be sure to purchase (on your own) in time to have it for the event. Margaret Peterson Haddix has a grade level list of books on her website (it can be found through the link below). She will be with us on Friday, February 22.

Bil Lepp has two books that can be purchased in store or on-line and will be here on Tuesday, February 19. There will be a very limited number of books for sale on Tuesday and Friday, and will be first come, first serve.

We will welcome DISCO for creative writing workshops with our second graders. Please see the link below to see what all DISCO offers to the Birmingham community and to learn more about their Epic Read-A-Thon which is coming soon.

We have a dynamic group of presenters. If interested in learning more about our guests, please see links below.
